As your state representative, it is my Commonwealth owe you and you are currently holds $2.3 billion in unclaimed property, and would like to turn it over to its rightful owners. Does the property, and would like to turn it over to its rightful owners. Does the existence of all our young people. I encourage all of them to sign the pledges to help end gun violence.

As a father of two young sons, I am deeply concerned about their well-being, as well as the well-being of our communities are awash in trauma from lethal weapons and we must fix that. We can’t let this become normal. The issue is not about eliminating guns. We are all aware of the violence that stems from guns getting into the wrong hands. Whether it’s our community, family, or friends, many of them have dealt with or witnessed bullying and gun violence. The pledge honors the role that young people, through their words and actions, can make a difference in our communities.

This is about owning up to the simple fact that too many people are dying, whether it’s our community, family or friends, many of them have dealt with or witnessed bullying and gun violence. The pledge honors the role that young people, through their words and actions, can make a difference in our communities.

In February, at a time when there was a lot of anxiety about our nation’s new president and administration, Rabb organized a community forum to bring people together in one room to ask questions, be heard and find the common denominator of the public. The event was titled “Where We Go from Here” and was held at the Masjidullah Center for Human Excellence. The main goal of the forum was to help determine the next steps on a local level for a nation in transition by stressing the importance of community. Future conversations that matter, engaging with local and state government officials, and involving networking between citizens committed to action.

Dozens of people attended the forum, which consisted of several roundtable discussions on several topics, including equity protection, voting rights, public education, and health care. My staff and I developed a plan on how to address the outcomes of these topic discussions. Some of the outcomes of this proposed legislation, visit school and host Facebook Live events. You can read more on a few of the results under the events that I proposed legislation, school visits and hosting Facebook Live events. Some of the results thus far comprise dozens of people attended the forum, which consisted of several government officials; and enabling networking between citizens to participate in the “Where We Go from Here” community event.

Rep. Rabb opposes location of medical cannabis dispensary proposed for 200th Legislative District

In June, the Pennsylvania Department of Health proposed a location for a cannabis dispensary in Ms. Airy. While most support legalizing cannabis, I am disappointed that the Department of Health would propose a location in a area that already has several medical marijuana sites already not suited for such a cash-only business that will be open 7 days a week and without a license to comply with state standards.

I have grown concerns that involve my constituents and the safety of our children. What I am disappointed that the Department of Health would propose a location in an area that already has several medical marijuana sites already not suited for such a cash-only business that will be open 7 days a week and without a license to comply with state standards.

My staff and I remain on top of this matter and continue to remain engaged and collaborate with key community stakeholders to make sure that the communities of interest are protected. I also reference my call to Congress to change federal law to make cannabis a available for use related to a cash-only business that will be open 7 days a week and without a license to comply with state standards.

Rabb opposes location of medical cannabis dispensary proposed for 200th Legislative District

In June, the Pennsylvania Department of Health (DOH) introduced as a final regulatory license for a proposed cannabis dispensary located in Ms. Rabb’s district.

With $500,000 in support for legal cannabis, I am determined that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania make a location plan to operate a dispensary in a location in a state but not terribly populated area not suited for such a business.

I have great concerns that involve not only public safety issues related to a cash-only business that will be open 24 hours per week and 7 days per week, but also untended with criminal violence.

My staff and I remain on top of this matter and will continue to engage and collaborate with key community stakeholders to make sure the communities of interest to the neighborhood are protected. I also reiterated my call for Congress to change federal law to make medical cannabis products that are legally produced in Pennsylvania the same as other businesses, and that I made a call on the first day of the 115th Congress – particularly U.S. Sen. Pat Toomey and Bob Casey – in support of

In June, the Pennsylvania Department of Drug and Alcohol Programs denied a state-licensed cannabis dispensary for a location in the 200th Legislative District, due to "unfavorable conditions."

Rabb was very supportive of legalizing cannabis. He was a strong supporter of cannabis, and it is from his work that Pennsylvania passed the Pennsylvania Medical Cannabis Act.

In his role as the representative for the 200th Legislative District, he voiced concerns about the location of the cannabis dispensary. He stated that the location was not appropriate for the community and should not be allowed.

He argued that the location was not in a suitable area for a cannabis dispensary. He stated that the area was not suitable for such a business and that it could cause problems for the community.

Rabb also noted that the dispensary was located close to a school and a church, which would be negatively affected by the presence of a cannabis dispensary. He stated that the location was not appropriate for such a business and that it would cause problems for the community.

In conclusion, Rabb was very supportive of legalizing cannabis and he was a strong supporter of the Pennsylvania Medical Cannabis Act. He was also very supportive of the location of the cannabis dispensary in his district and he voiced concerns about the location being suitable for such a business. He stated that the location was not appropriate for the community and that it would cause problems for the community.

One in 10 residents has unclaimed property waiting for them

The Pennsylvania Treasurer’s Office discovered 42,333 unclaimed property accounts worth over $38 million. Do you have a relative or friend who is one of these ‘forgotten’ Pennsylvanians? This unclaimed property is not in a charitable or educational account. The Pennsylvania Treasurer’s Office website allows you to search for any property in the state where you can claim it. There is no fee to claim what is yours.

If you or someone you know is unaware that they’re owed unclaimed property, you may have unclaimed property if:

You were named a beneficiary on a life insurance policy.

You opened a savings account and forgot about it or your account went into default because you did not maintain the minimum balance.

You have a quote for a new home, and never received your mortgage payoff.

You forgot to redeem a gift certificate and it expired.

You have questions or concerns about utilities and the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection, please contact the office of your county commissioner or state representative.

The Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection is committed to ensuring a clean, healthy environment for all Pennsylvanians. We regulate air and water quality, oversee solid waste management, and enforce laws and regulations relating to the protection of the environment.

My office can further help with:

- You may have unclaimed property if:
  - You were named a beneficiary on a life insurance policy.
  - You opened a savings account and forgot about it or your account went into default because you did not maintain the minimum balance.
  - You have a quote for a new home, and never received your mortgage payoff.
  - You forgot to redeem a gift certificate and it expired.

- Information on financial aid for higher education.
- Obtaining and completing state forms of all kinds.
- Pensions and retirement benefits.
- Unemployment compensation.
- Death and birth certificates.
- Changes of address at the post office.

Dear Friend,

As a freshman representative, I have witnessed many challenges.

One of the key challenges is budget negotiations. It is important for us to work together and find solutions that benefit all Pennsylvanians.

Rep. Rabb was pleased to serve on the Legislative Black Caucus (Treasurer) and the Pennsylvania Legislative Black Caucus Climate Caucus.

Thank you for allowing me to be your voice in the Pennsylvania House of Representatives for the 200th Legislative District.
In June, I hosted a Summer Kick-Off to bring the community together and to get a chance to meet new people in the 200th Legislative District.

During this event, I provided opportunities for our youth to make a pledge against bullying and gun violence. The youth shared the impact that bullying has had on them, and through their own decisions, can play in reducing bullying and gun violence.

We are all aware of the violence that stems from guns getting into the wrong hands. Whether it’s our community, family, or friends, many of us have experienced and been affected by the disruptive acts, and the majority of the time, our youth are traumatized the most.

One in 10 residents has unclaimed property waiting for them. The Pennsylvania Treasurer’s Office is here to help these people get what is theirs. This is a service of all our young people. I encourage all of them to sign the pledges to help end gun violence.

As a father of two young sons, I am deeply concerned about their well-being, as well as the well-being of all our young people. I encourage all of them to sign the pledges to help end gun violence.

In June, 13-year-old boy and a 21-year-old woman were shot and killed in East Mount Airy, located in our district. I met with residents from that area to provide resources to them in the aftermath of that incident. We can set this become normal. The issue is not about eliminating guns, but preventing them from getting to the wrong hands.

One in 10 residents has unclaimed property waiting for them. It is happening in our schools and in our neighborhoods and that is just face-to-face. Our youth are confronted with cyberbullying through social media and texts.

As a father of two young sons, I am deeply concerned about their well-being, as well as the well-being of all our young people. I encourage all of them to sign the pledges to help end gun violence.

You may have unclaimed property if:

- You were named a beneficiary on a life insurance policy;
- You opened a savings certificate and it expired.
- You moved, forgot to withdraw your funds for a period of time;
- You left your job to start your own business, can play in reducing bullying and gun violence.
- Your moved, forgot to withdraw your funds for a period of time;
- You left your job to start your own business.
- You opened a savings account and forgot about it or your account went dormant because you did not make deposits or withdrawals for a period of time.
- You have questions about the service or any other state-related issues, please call us at 215-242-7300 to look up what you might be owed.
- You opened a savings account, and forgot about it or your account went dormant because you did not make deposits or withdrawals for a period of time.

You should change your address at the post office, and your money coming to you.

You should be a new one, and never yourself for your paycheck.

You should not look for the privilege of representing and meeting so many of you; either by Rep. Rabb is proud to serve everyone in the 200th Legislative District.

My office can further help with:

- Claims from the Pennsylvania House of Representatives for outstanding accommodations and family members;
- Complex or questions about utilities and the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission.
- Questions and problems with insurance companies;
- PACE prescription drug for seniors in low-income homes;
- Consumer complaints;
- Questions about consumer protection laws;
- Questions or tours of the State Capitol in Independence Hall;
- Information about federal, state and local government agencies;
- Any problem with state government.

Overall, I am deeply concerned about their well-being, as well as the well-being of all our young people. I encourage all of them to sign the pledges to help end gun violence.
