On March 24, I visited Plum Borough School District’s O’Block Jr. High School. And I encouraged the advisory committee to visit us for two reasons: (1) Plum has a timely perspective needs to support 21st century demands. Technology has changed the way we educate students in a big way, so our school building programs and reimbursement needs to support 21st century demands. The PlanCon Advisory Committee earlier this year. Pictured (left to right): Plum Superintendent Dr. Timothy Glasgow and Plum School Board Director Michele Stepnick talked to us. We also heard great testimony from superintendents Michael Calla (Sharon Jr.), Dr. Gennaro Piraino Jr. (Franklin Regional), Dr. Anthony Hamlet (Pittsburgh Public Schools), and Brian Jackson (West Greene). Pictured (left to right): Michele Stepnick and Dr. Anthony Hamlet.

We talked about how Pennsylvania can employ best practices and be an accountability check for public funding in school construction.

The approval that led by using a geothermal system in its new school, Sharon City School District realized a 40 percent reduction in its energy costs. Pittsburgh Public Schools said it wants to expand state reimbursement for health and safety efforts as it recently underwent a $2 million water safety project as a proactive response to the lead issues in Flint, Mich.

The hearing concluded with a tour of Plum Borough School District’s new Holiday Park Elementary School. Interestingly, Holiday Park is a near exact replica of another elementary school the district completed three years ago. Plum Borough School District’s re-use of the same design saved taxpayers’ money and is an example of the type of prudent management the state should encourage through its reimbursement program.

Medical Marijuana Program Update:

It may seem like it’s been a long time since the General Assembly approved medical marijuana and the PA Department of Health is working to implement the medical marijuana program and to schedule a hearing to have that drug available to eligible patients this time next year.

The Department has published numerous temporary regulations which outline policies and procedures to apply that development and initial execution of the medical marijuana program, including:

- Established six medical marijuana regions across Pennsylvania, which will initially allow up to 1 grower/processor per region and a total of 27 dispensary permits across the state.
- Issue 231 safe harbor letter to parents, legal/guardians, and physicians of eligible minors certifying that they was lawfully obtain and transport medical marijuana from other states into the Commonwealth for approval use;
- Select consultant法way to develop the state’s “seed-to-sale” (details of these applications will be approved before they are made available) in the form of a light dispensary.
- Administered more than 30 application packages to grow/process and/or dispense medical marijuana (details of these applications will be approved before they are made available) in the form of a light dispensary.
- Placed a plant to the form dispensary to personnel;
- Received more than 500 application packages to grow/process and/or dispense medical marijuana (details of these applications will be approved before they are made available) in the form of a light dispensary.

Pennsylvania’s new tax amnesty program expires June 19.

2. File a tax amnesty application by June 19.
3. File all delinquent returns and make the required payment before tax amnesty ends. (Withdraw all related active administrative or judicial appeals.)
4. Make the required payment by midnight on June 19.

What is the state holding your property?

You can now use the state’s online tool to locate your property, check your account balances, or file a claim.

Since August, our office has helped constituents find 632 properties valued at a combined $120,833.27.

Call my Monroeville office, 412-856-6284, or return the form on the back of this newsletter to find out if the state is holding unclaimed money that you own.

If you have questions, contact the Department of Banking and Securities at 1-800-600-007. The agency also fields claims on behalf of claimants who live at or near the residence and meet all other eligibility criteria.

Catch any luck?

Much to the excitement of anglers across Pennsylvania, April 15 marked the opening day of trout season. Fishing is on an exciting way to enjoy the outdoors and the beauties of our state’s lakes, rivers and streams and to foster a sense of community.

If you love the lake, try your luck! Most Pennsylvania’s lakes and streams are stocked with trout this time of year.

Anglers can also buy multi-year licenses. A 3-year resident license is $22.00, non-resident (out-of-state) is $52.90, and senior resident (ages 62 and older) is $11.50. 5-day permits are also available.
