Drinking Water Quality and Sourcing Concerns in the 154th District

In late July and early August, Aqua Pennsylvania took two of its area water systems — the North Hills and the Wissahickon Waterworks — offline after receiving results from their most recent testing for per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances (PFAS), a group of chemicals that includes PFOS and PFOA. In our area’s suburban watersheds, the area impacted directly in my legislative district is most of Ward 1 in Cheltenham, and Ward 7, Precincts 2 and 3 in Springfield. Together, it is an area of about 2.5 miles, between Route 73 (Church Road) and Mount Carmel Avenue from Paper Mill Road to Easton Road.

In early August, those of us representing our water systems on the House Environmental Resources and Energy Committee and others advocated for an update on PFAS and PFOS levels found in our area’s drinking water. To test for these chemicals, however, our area’s drinking water often must be transported to the company’s laboratory in Pittsburgh. This testing process can take six to eight weeks to complete. The situation was further compounded because our water systems were already being impacted by an ongoing emergency water supply situation in our town due to our unavailability of 70 parts per trillion (ppt) for PFOS and PFOA combined. As a result, and purely as a voluntary act, Aqua Pennsylvania voluntarily reduced its target level for PFOS and PFOA, even though those levels were still below 70 ppt.

Thirty-three states have water with PFOS and PFAs contamination at some level. And some have moved more aggressively towards setting limits than Pennsylvania. After the federal government’s PFAS Action Plan was introduced in 2019, I was one of the first to follow the national guideline of 70 ppt for PFOS, for example, has a limit of 20 ppt.

Since the last time we had this conversation, Aqua Pennsylvania has doubled its efforts to test our area’s drinking water for PFAS and PFOS, and I have continued to follow their efforts closely. Hopefully, we will see steady progress in the future to ensure that our residents are not exposed to harmful chemicals.

In early August, I attended Aqua Pennsylvania’s open house at their Wissahickon Waterworks facility, which was held to address community concerns about PFAS and PFOS contamination in our water. They are now improving our ability to accurately quantify for their presence.

Aqua’s testing results are reported within 30 days at a cost of $150.00 per PFAS and PFOA. This test has been certified by the Environmental Resources and Energy Committee and has yet to get a hearing. By early August, following an information meeting hosted by SEPTA and engineers, Aqua announced that their drinking water in the Willow Grove area is safe. I met with the chairman of that committee to discuss the issue with my constituent’s signature on it. Aqua also released a video on their Facebook page. My constituent was pleased that Aqua has taken these steps to address the issue on time. I am very pleased with the proactive measures that Aqua is taking to address this issue with our community.

Aqua Pennsylvania announced that they have decreased the levels of PFAS and PFOS in our drinking water. I was pleased to see that Aqua is taking this step to ensure that our residents are not exposed to harmful chemicals.

I am a strong supporter of Aqua Pennsylvania’s efforts to improve the quality of our drinking water. I am committed to ensuring that our residents have access to safe and clean water. I am confident that Aqua Pennsylvania will continue to work towards improving the quality of our drinking water and I will continue to support their efforts in the future.

In conclusion, I am pleased with Aqua Pennsylvania’s efforts to improve the quality of our drinking water. I am committed to ensuring that our residents have access to safe and clean water. I am confident that Aqua Pennsylvania will continue to work towards improving the quality of our drinking water and I will continue to support their efforts in the future.

Your Sacrifice Saluted

This spring, I joined U.S. Congresswoman Dwight Evans and state Sen. Art Haywood in dedicating a new Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission historic marker celebrating the Emancipation Proclamation. The marker is in the City of Philadelphia on State Street near the National Museum of African American History and Culture. It was a significant step in the right direction for ensuring that the sacrifices made by African Americans during the Civil War are not forgotten.

The Emancipation Proclamation opened that particular chapter of the Civil War. But in 1863, the Emancipation Proclamation was signed by President Abraham Lincoln. It was a significant step in the right direction for ensuring that the sacrifices made by African Americans during the Civil War are not forgotten.

Why We Need Change:

I cosponsored H.B. 2132, which would promote domestic violence awareness and help people pay for domestic violence-related care. I also strongly opposed Senate Bill 383, legislation that would make it more difficult for our General Assembly from paying settlement costs with taxpayer funds. Under Pennsylvania law, businesses are required to pay back any settlement costs they have established to deal with these issues. I am a strong advocate for raising PA's minimum wage, life insurance policies and other physical and monetary assets — that has been lost. Why We Need Change Pennsylvania's minimum wage is still below that of 32 other states. By raising the minimum wage, we would help workers to improve their lives and the lives of their families.

Tobacco 21. As we went to press, we were in the process of implementing a law that took effect on February 26, 2015. Pennsylvania is now the 19th state to set the age for the purchase of tobacco products at 21. This law, which was supported by the American Lung Association and other health organizations, is a significant step forward in reducing tobacco use among young adults. Under the new law, it is illegal to sell or distribute tobacco products to anyone under the age of 21 in Pennsylvania at any place where tobacco products are sold. This includes retail stores, online retailers, and vending machines.罚款 and jail time have been increased for violating the law. The new law is also expected to reduce the number of young people who start smoking and the associated health problems associated with tobacco use.

Conservation Provisions for Unclaimed Property. Under Pennsylvania law, businesses are required to report unclaimed property, or items such as bank accounts, money orders, dividends, bonds, certificates of deposit, and certificates of stock. If unclaimed property is not claimed by the owner within a certain period of time, it becomes the property of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The Pennsylvania Unclaimed Property Law (Act of January 23, 1977, P.L. 4, No. 1) is designed to help absentee stockholders find their unclaimed property. If you have any questions about unclaimed property or how to claim it, please visit the department’s website or contact your local office of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Unclaimed property is a valuable resource that can be used to support a variety of public programs and projects.

Climate Action Advisory Committee. recently announced the committee’s purpose, which is to work in concert with DEP to update the Commonwealth’s Climate Change Action Plan (revised by the PA Climate Change Authority) by quantifying the state’s greenhouse gas emissions, evaluating cost-effective strategies for reducing them and recommending legislative changes necessary to meet new climate change initiatives in Pennsylvania. I am particularly interested in strengthening the state’s short-term and long-term goals for state generation and use of renewable energy. I will continue to support equal pay in our commonwealth: H.B. 1921, which would require employers to provide reasonable accommodations for pregnant employees. And, as you see, I cosponsored three pieces of legislation that mask the names of members of the General Assembly—H.B. 598, H.B. 1315, which would give eligible parents eight hours of unpaid leave; and H.B. 1159, H.B. 1160 and H.B. 1161, all of which would require all employers in PA to provide a sanitary space for employees to purpose and Technology Showcase.

The Tobacco Problem

Tobacco 21

As we went to press, I was in the process of drafting legislation that would raise the tobacco age in Pennsylvania at which one can purchase cigarettes, e-cigarettes, or other similar tobacco products. I believe that protecting our youngest citizens from the harmful effects of tobacco use is a priority. Tobacco products are addictive, and they are responsible for a significant number of deaths each year. I am committed to enacting a law that will raise the tobacco age in Pennsylvania.

Climate Change Advisory Committee

The climate change advisory committee was created by the Pennsylvania Climate Change Act of 2008. The committee’s purpose is to work in concert with DEP to update the commonwealth’s climate action plan and to recommend strategies and policy changes to address climate change in Pennsylvania. I am particularly interested in supporting the state’s clean-energy and renewable-energy goals for future generation and use of renewable energy. I am also interested in supporting policies and initiatives that will help to reduce our carbon footprint and mitigate the impacts of climate change.

We Need Change

Pennsylvania’s minimum wage is still lower than that of 32 other states that have increased their minimum wages. Also, while 88 percent of U.S. workers have access to paid sick leave, just 14 percent have paid family leave, access to which would help tremendously in dealing with personal crises, including the care of a sick family member.

Why We Need Change

Pennsylvania is one of the states that has not increased its minimum wage in recent years. While the majority party controls what gets heard in Harrisburg, I will continue to speak out loudly in support of changes that are important to my constituents. I am a strong advocate for raising PA’s minimum wage, as it would help to reduce poverty and increase economic productivity.

They are extremely persistent in the environment and in the body and may be associated with adverse long-term health effects. In our area, the public health impact of our water is suspected to have come in large measure from fire-fighting foams used at the Willow Grove Air Force Base, which closed down two of its wells with the highest levels of PFOA and PFOS, even though those levels still were below 70 ppt. Thirty-three states have water with PFOS and PFOA contamination at some point. And some have moved more aggressively to try to reduce PFAS levels in their water supply. In late August, Aqua Pennsylvania took two more of its area water supply wells offline after receiving results of their most recent testing for PFAS, which has been ongoing for several years. The state health department continues to test public water systems in our state to ensure they are reducing or eliminating PFAS in our water supply. We are now evaluating our ability to quickly adjust for their presence.

However, I am deeply concerned that our drinking water is still being impacted by PFAS. This is critically important. I will continue to demand an end to PFAS contamination in our drinking water as well as ensure our ability to quickly adjust for their presence.
