Exercise Your Right to Vote

Even before the COVID-19 pandemic turned our lives upside down, the General Assembly and governor approved bipartisan legislation to make it easier for you to exercise your right to vote in Pennsylvania by allowing no-excuse mail-in voting. As a result, more than 1.8 million Pennsylvanians cast their votes in mail in the 2020 primary. While there are links to work out, county voter registration offices performed very well and worked diligently to make sure voters were accurately counted and reported to the public within a week of the primary.

date time

Check Your Voter Registration Status or Register Online

You can check your voter registration status or register to vote online. If you are mailing a vote-by-mail ballot, it is important to verify your registration status or call my office for help (610-821-5077). If you prefer to register using a paper application, you can mail an application to you. Registrations or changes must be in the hands of the voter registration office by October 19, 2020. But don’t delay! Get it done early.

Has your Polling Place Moved?

The pandemic created a variety of challenges for voting in the 2020 primary elections. Many of the polling places throughout Pennsylvania were changed, and in some cases, were closed working that day. Additionally, many of the polling locations are facing budget cuts and high risk of exposure. Let’s keep the promise of the 2010 Election to voting in person, and make sure it gets there. If you can’t get the ballot back to the voter registration office with a few weeks to spare, consider calling the voter registration office at 17 S. 7th St. 2-3 weeks to make sure it gets there.

Constituent Service Available By Appointment

Throughout the pandemic, my staff and I have been busy helping people with state government questions. In most cases, I personally returned calls. While it was not possible to meet in person, I made sure I delivered the same care and service people would deliver in-person. As we continue to adapt during the winter of the pandemic to assist people.

Governor Wolf Unveils Mental Health Care Plan at Muhlenberg College

College students please be guests. Governor Wolf at Muhlenberg College in January to unveil the PA Suicide Prevention Plan, titled “Reach Out PA: Your Mental Health Matters.” We were joined by local officials and Congresswoman Susan Wild.

Hometown Heroes

Almost every morning during the COVID pandemic, my wife Brenna and I spent time giving a daily update about the fates at Facebook.com/RepSchlossberg. At the end of each video, we take a moment to share the story of a hometown hero, somebody who went above and beyond to help others. It is information and we want to take a moment to share the story of a hometown hero, somebody who went above and beyond to help others. It is informal and we want to.

Covid Turns Pennsylvania Upside Down

When 2020 started, not many of us expected what happened. As February turned into March, it was clear COVID-19 was going to mark a chapter of global history almost none of us have ever experienced. It was an unprecedented challenge for public health officials, government, and the American public. It didn’t take long for mitigation efforts to go into effect, as states and communities across the country have taken their own approaches to save lives and will continue to vary between states. The pandemic has been severe. COVID-19 has left a trail of destruction from which it will take years to recover. The bill will be long and reach into every corner of our community, from businesses to schools, to our communities to access to basic physical and mental health. While COVID-19 has exposed many weak points in our society, it hasn’t diminished our resolve to recover. As we build a stronger community and every corner of our community, from businesses to schools, to our communities to access to basic physical and mental health.
The U.S. Constitution requires a complete and accurate count of people living in the United States every 10 years. The results help to ensure public services for schools, hospitals, and online forms to collect data. If you have not responded to the 2020 Census, you have until the end of September to do so. It’s safe and easy to do. Your participation in the 2020 Census is critical for our community.

First Responder Mental Health Bill Signed into Law

Our first responders often shoulder more burden than most of us can imagine. They face high levels of stress, depression, anxiety, and suicide. The COVID-19 pandemic has exacerbated these strains even further. The new law supports peer-to-peer support programs, training and awareness training, and support for nonprofit organizations doing this work.

Promise of Liberty & Justice for All

With tensions brought on by the economic, social, and racial crises of a pandemic, people across the country expressed their deep-seated frustration when Minneapolis police officers arrested George Floyd, a 46-year-old Black man. Five police officers lost their jobs for their actions. The four officers involved in his arrest were fired and charged for murder and manslaughter. One officer had his first of the four charges, but the officer left the house on the neck of a man for approximately 8 minutes. This touched a chord for those concerned about racial justice and prompted many Americans to join in to demand Black Lives Matter. I believe Black Lives Matter calls us to a greater America, one in which the quality of education offered in a community school isn’t dictated by its zip code, where housing and health insurance are affordable to all families, the color of white supremacy is actively dismantled. Yes, I stand with the black community to demand Black Lives Matter. Yes, I stand with the LGBTQ community to demand Black Lives Matter. And for all.”

REAL ID: Deadline Extended

The REAL ID Act is a federal law that establishes a uniform national identification standard, known as a REAL ID, which must be adopted by all states, with penalties for non-compliance. The deadline for REAL ID enforcement has been delayed until October 1, 2021. If you plan on boarding a domestic flight, visiting a military base, or entering a federal building or venue, you will need to present a REAL ID or another form of accepted identification. Visit the Pennsylvania Department of Transportation website to learn more about your specific requirements.
Promise of Liberty & Justice for All

With tensions brought on by the economic, social, and political strains of a pandemic, people across the country expressed their deep-seated disillusionment when Minnesota police killed George Floyd. Floyd, a 46-year-old Black man, died in police custody. The four officers involved in his arrest were fired and charged for murder and manslaughter after they flagged each of one’s four officers. The police officer had her knee on the neck of George Floyd for approximately 8 minutes. This touched off a firestorm for those concerned about racial justice and prompted many Americans to join in to demand Black Lives Matter. I believe Black Lives Matter calls us to a greater America, one in which the quality of education offered in a community is not dictated by its zip code, where housing and health care are available in custom-fit housing and lottery systems, where local parks are open to all, and expertise is available. It is a promise to everybody living in this country.

First Responder Mental Health Bill Signed into Law

Our first responders often shoulder more burden than most of us will ever experience in our lifetimes. They must deal with intense trauma, potential death, the loss of a fellow responder, and crime scenes and domestic incidents. Studies show that first responders have higher rates of depression, alcohol abuse, sleep disturbances, anxiety disorders, and suicidal thoughts. Last year, I introduced legislation to establish an emergency responder mental wellness and stress management program in Pennsylvania. This summer, it passed the House and Senate and Governor Wolf signed it into law.

In June of 2016, the United States Supreme Court ruled the U.S. Constitution protects the right of same-sex couples. Almost five years later, the same court ruled the Civil Rights Act of 1964 extends this protection to LGBTQ individuals. The next big battle is to protect the Civil Rights Act for LGBTQ individuals. For the past several months, we have spent a lot of time giving credit to those who fought for these laws, but we also owe a debt of gratitude to those who fought for the law. When we wrote the laws, we wrote them for all. People with disabilities and disability advocates have been working for years to get these laws passed into law. This is not the end of the conversation about improving mental health care and mental wellness. Our first responders are the first responders to a continental crisis. We need to do more. This is the first step in getting us there.

Freedom from Discrimination for LGBTQ

In June of 2016, the United States Supreme Court ruled the U.S. Constitution protects the right of same-sex couples. Almost five years later, the same court ruled the Civil Rights Act of 1964 extends this protection to LGBTQ individuals. The next big battle is to protect the Civil Rights Act for LGBTQ individuals. For the past several months, we have spent a lot of time giving credit to those who fought for these laws, but we also owe a debt of gratitude to those who fought for the law. When we wrote the laws, we wrote them for all. People with disabilities and disability advocates have been working for years to get these laws passed into law. This is not the end of the conversation about improving mental health care and mental wellness. Our first responders are the first responders to a continental crisis. We need to do more. This is the first step in getting us there.

First of all, do your part and respond. It’s safe and easy to do. It’s safe and easy to do. If you have not responded to the 2020 Census, you have until the end of September to do so. It’s safe and easy to do.

The Constitution requires the Federal Government to take an accurate Census every 10 years, with the results helping to determine how much federal funding each State receives and how many representatives each State has in Congress. The Census is critical for our community.

First of all, do your part and respond. It’s safe and easy to do. If you have not responded to the 2020 Census, you have until the end of September to do so. It’s safe and easy to do.

First of all, do your part and respond. It’s safe and easy to do. If you have not responded to the 2020 Census, you have until the end of September to do so. It’s safe and easy to do.

First of all, do your part and respond. It’s safe and easy to do. If you have not responded to the 2020 Census, you have until the end of September to do so. It’s safe and easy to do.

First of all, do your part and respond. It’s safe and easy to do. If you have not responded to the 2020 Census, you have until the end of September to do so. It’s safe and easy to do.

First of all, do your part and respond. It’s safe and easy to do. If you have not responded to the 2020 Census, you have until the end of September to do so. It’s safe and easy to do.

First of all, do your part and respond. It’s safe and easy to do. If you have not responded to the 2020 Census, you have until the end of September to do so. It’s safe and easy to do.

First of all, do your part and respond. It’s safe and easy to do. If you have not responded to the 2020 Census, you have until the end of September to do so. It’s safe and easy to do.

First of all, do your part and respond. It’s safe and easy to do. If you have not responded to the 2020 Census, you have until the end of September to do so. It’s safe and easy to do.

First of all, do your part and respond. It’s safe and easy to do. If you have not responded to the 2020 Census, you have until the end of September to do so. It’s safe and easy to do.

First of all, do your part and respond. It’s safe and easy to do. If you have not responded to the 2020 Census, you have until the end of September to do so. It’s safe and easy to do.

First of all, do your part and respond. It’s safe and easy to do. If you have not responded to the 2020 Census, you have until the end of September to do so. It’s safe and easy to do.

First of all, do your part and respond. It’s safe and easy to do. If you have not responded to the 2020 Census, you have until the end of September to do so. It’s safe and easy to do.

First of all, do your part and respond. It’s safe and easy to do. If you have not responded to the 2020 Census, you have until the end of September to do so. It’s safe and easy to do.

First of all, do your part and respond. It’s safe and easy to do. If you have not responded to the 2020 Census, you have until the end of September to do so. It’s safe and easy to do.

First of all, do your part and respond. It’s safe and easy to do. If you have not responded to the 2020 Census, you have until the end of September to do so. It’s safe and easy to do.

First of all, do your part and respond. It’s safe and easy to do. If you have not responded to the 2020 Census, you have until the end of September to do so. It’s safe and easy to do.

First of all, do your part and respond. It’s safe and easy to do. If you have not responded to the 2020 Census, you have until the end of September to do so. It’s safe and easy to do.

First of all, do your part and respond. It’s safe and easy to do. If you have not responded to the 2020 Census, you have until the end of September to do so. It’s safe and easy to do.

First of all, do your part and respond. It’s safe and easy to do. If you have not responded to the 2020 Census, you have until the end of September to do so. It’s safe and easy to do.
Without a doubt, the most frequent call my office receives are related to help with the Pennsylvania Commonwealth’s Pandemic Unemployment Assistance. Despite the spike in unemployment, the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry has had to deal with incoming phone calls and emails. This often leaves people anxious about paying their bills and feeding their families.

At my office, more than 70 individuals get my unemployment questions answered. It’s time consuming and sometimes confusing, but I do my best to return every call and help people with the best solutions.

We are still able to answer unemployment-related questions. Please give us a call at 1-814-312-4000 or visit my2020census.gov to sign up to do so. It’s safe and easy to do.

The Census Bureau has had to rely on mail-in responses made it difficult to get a complete count. The U.S. Census is important to our community, plan for housing, business development and improve neighborhoods and even public safety, plan for housing, business development and improve neighborhoods and even

For Our Community

With the dramatic spike in unemployment, the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry is seeing a surge in Pandemic Unemployment Assistance (PUA).

To respond online, visit my2020census.gov and online forms to collect data. If you have not answered. It was bumpy and sometimes time consuming, but I did my best to return every call and help people with the best solutions.

With the dramatic spike in unemployment, the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry is seeing a surge in Pandemic Unemployment Assistance (PUA).

To respond online, visit my2020census.gov and online forms to collect data. If you have not answered. It was bumpy and sometimes time consuming, but I did my best to return every call and help people with the best solutions.

To respond online, visit my2020census.gov and online forms to collect data. If you have not answered. It was bumpy and sometimes time consuming, but I did my best to return every call and help people with the best solutions.

To respond online, visit my2020census.gov and online forms to collect data. If you have not answered. It was bumpy and sometimes time consuming, but I did my best to return every call and help people with the best solutions.

To respond online, visit my2020census.gov and online forms to collect data. If you have not answered. It was bumpy and sometimes time consuming, but I did my best to return every call and help people with the best solutions.
Exercise Your Right to Vote

Even before the COVID-19 pandemic turned our lives upside down, the General Assembly and governor approved bipartisan legislation to make it easier for you to exercise your right to vote in Pennsylvania by allowing no-excuse mail-in voting. As a result, more than 1.8 million Pennsylvanians cast their votes by mail in the June 2 primary. While there are kinks to work out, county voter registration offices performed very well and worked diligently to make sure voters were accurately counted and reported to the public within a week of the primary.

Voter Registration Status or Register Online

You can check your voter registration status or register to vote online at VotesPA.com. If you need to update your voter registration status or call my office by help (610-821-5577). If you prefer to register using a paper application, my office can mail an application to you. Registrations or changes must be in the hands of the voter registration office by October 19, 2020. But don’t delay! Get it done early.

Check Your Voter Registration Status or Register Online

Exercise Your Right to Vote

— Mike Schlossberg

Constituent Service Available By Appointment

Throughout the pandemic, my staff and I have been busy helping people with state government questions. In most cases, personally returned calls. While it was not possible to see my staff in person, I did answer their phones to return calls. If you have a question for your state representatives, call (610) 821-5577.

Governor Wolf Unveils Mental Health Plan at Muhlenberg College

“Nothing is more important than the health and well-being of our colleagues. We were joined by local officials and Congresswoman Susan Wild.

Wearing a mask on the House floor is a sign of respect for the health, safety and well-being of my colleagues.

It is possible the location where you voted last will not be a polling place for the 2020 election. If you are not sure where to vote, visit in Pennsylvania. Visit VotesPA.com to check your registration status or register to vote online in Pennsylvania. Visit VotesPA.com to check your registration status or register to vote online in Pennsylvania.

Has your Polling Place Moved?

The pandemic created a variety of challenges for voting in the 2020 primary elections. Many of the people who work the polls were working that day. Additionally, many of the polling locations are facilities with high risk populations. Lehigh County did a commendable job in securing polling locations to ensure people voting in person could cast their vote safely.

Check your Voter Registration

If you are mailing the ballot back to the voter registration office by October 19, 2020. But don’t delay! Get it done early.

Vote By Mail

(a) It is required… no exception.

(b) My office is available to serve you, but we do need to take steps to ensure health and safety. We are available by appointment for in-person services to minimize face-to-face contact.

(c) If you need to set up an appointment, masks are required… no exception.

If you know somebody who deserves recognition as a hometown hero, for going above and beyond to help others, give me a call (610-821-5577) or send me an email (RepSchlossberg@pahouse.net).

Hometown Heroes

It didn’t take long for mitigation efforts to go into effect. As states and local communities took action, they had to find new ways to serve people. Distance learning, telework, and telemedicine became everyday activities. Pennsylvanians took care of each other.

COVID Turns Pennsylvania Upside Down

It is informal and we field nominations from people who live in daily newspapers stories or from emails. Each day brings with it new challenges during this pandemic. We are sharing new stories about the good in our community. It has been a pandemic. They also bring new stories about the good in our community.

The impact has been severe: COVID-19 has saved lives and will continue to save lives until we have a safe, effective and widely available vaccine.

Jobs that Pay

We do miss the many friends who stop by for help, but we recognize it is more important for our community to prioritize public health. If you need to set up an appointment, make sure you have an appointment, masks are required… no exception.

COVID-19 is likely to be a challenge in November. I am encouraging people to vote by mail in the General Election. There are concerns to be addressed about mail-in ballots, but that can be solved by taking the following steps:

Voting By Mail

1. Request your ballot online at VotesPA.com or call my office (610-821-5577) to request a vote-by-mail application. Per Lehigh County Voter Registration, ballots are scheduled to be mailed no later than October 15.

2. Follow the instructions for completing the ballot, placing the completed ballot in the correct envelope, signing it and returning it.

3. If you are mailing the ballot back to the voter registration office by October 19, 2020. But don’t delay! Get it done early.

Note: Ballots must be returned by mail or the person casting the vote. You can’t ask somebody else to deliver it for you.

Hometown Heroes

— Mike Schlossberg

When COVID-19 started, not many of us could have expected what happened. As Pennsylvania turned into March, it was clear COVID-19 was going to mark a chapter of global history almost none of us have ever experienced. I have been working long for essential workers, health care providers and families struggling to get food and housing. These efforts are informal and will continue to serve us until we have a safe, effective and widely available vaccine.

Jobs that Pay

We do miss the many friends who stop by for help, but we recognize it is more important for our community to prioritize public health. If you need to set up an appointment, make sure you have an appointment, masks are required… no exception.

Hometown Heroes

It didn’t take long for mitigation efforts to go into effect. As states and local communities took action, they had to find new ways to serve people. Distance learning, telework, and telemedicine became everyday activities. Pennsylvanians took care of each other.

COVID Turns Pennsylvania Upside Down

It is informal and we field nominations from people who live in daily newspapers stories or from emails. Each day brings with it new challenges during this pandemic. We are sharing new stories about the good in our community. It has been a pandemic. They also bring new stories about the good in our community.

The impact has been severe: COVID-19 has saved lives and will continue to save lives until we have a safe, effective and widely available vaccine.

Jobs that Pay

We do miss the many friends who stop by for help, but we recognize it is more important for our community to prioritize public health. If you need to set up an appointment, make sure you have an appointment, masks are required… no exception.

Hometown Heroes

It didn’t take long for mitigation efforts to go into effect. As states and local communities took action, they had to find new ways to serve people. Distance learning, telework, and telemedicine became everyday activities. Pennsylvanians took care of each other.

COVID Turns Pennsylvania Upside Down

It is informal and we field nominations from people who live in daily newspapers stories or from emails. Each day brings with it new challenges during this pandemic. We are sharing new stories about the good in our community. It has been a pandemic. They also bring new stories about the good in our community.

The impact has been severe: COVID-19 has saved lives and will continue to save lives until we have a safe, effective and widely available vaccine.

Jobs that Pay

We do miss the many friends who stop by for help, but we recognize it is more important for our community to prioritize public health. If you need to set up an appointment, make sure you have an appointment, masks are required… no exception.

Hometown Heroes

It didn’t take long for mitigation efforts to go into effect. As states and local communities took action, they had to find new ways to serve people. Distance learning, telework, and telemedicine became everyday activities. Pennsylvanians took care of each other.

COVID Turns Pennsylvania Upside Down

It is informal and we field nominations from people who live in daily newspapers stories or from emails. Each day brings with it new challenges during this pandemic. We are sharing new stories about the good in our community. It has been a pandemic. They also bring new stories about the good in our community.

The impact has been severe: COVID-19 has saved lives and will continue to save lives until we have a safe, effective and widely available vaccine.

Jobs that Pay

We do miss the many friends who stop by for help, but we recognize it is more important for our community to prioritize public health. If you need to set up an appointment, make sure you have an appointment, masks are required… no exception.

Hometown Heroes

It didn’t take long for mitigation efforts to go into effect. As states and local communities took action, they had to find new ways to serve people. Distance learning, telework, and telemedicine became everyday activities. Pennsylvanians took care of each other.

COVID Turns Pennsylvania Upside Down

It is informal and we field nominations from people who live in daily newspapers stories or from emails. Each day brings with it new challenges during this pandemic. We are sharing new stories about the good in our community. It has been a pandemic. They also bring new stories about the good in our community.

The impact has been severe: COVID-19 has saved lives and will continue to save lives until we have a safe, effective and widely available vaccine.

Jobs that Pay

We do miss the many friends who stop by for help, but we recognize it is more important for our community to prioritize public health. If you need to set up an appointment, make sure you have an appointment, masks are required… no exception.

Hometown Heroes

It didn’t take long for mitigation efforts to go into effect. As states and local communities took action, they had to find new ways to serve people. Distance learning, telework, and telemedicine became everyday activities. Pennsylvanians took care of each other.
Even before the COVID-19 pandemic turned our lives upside down, the General Assembly and governor approved bipartisan legislation to make it easier for you to exercise your right to vote in Pennsylvania by allowing no-excuse mail-in voting. As a result, more than 1.8 million Pennsylvanians cast their votes in mail-in ballots in the June 2 primary. While there are kinks to work out, county voter registration offices performed very well and worked diligently to make sure voters were accurately counted and reported to the public within a week of the primary.

Voting By Mail

With COVID-19 likely to be a challenge in November, I am encouraging people to mail in their ballots in advance. There are several ways to vote by mail in November, I am encouraging people to mail in their ballots in advance. There are several ways to vote by mail in Pennsylvania and online in Pennsylvania. Visit VotesPA.com to check your registration status or register online.

Constituent Service Available By Appointment

Throughout the pandemic, my staff and I have been busy helping people with state government questions. In most cases, personally returned calls. While it was not possible to meet with you in person, I believe these windows we would have met with you now.

Fighting for You and Your Community

Throughout the pandemic, my staff and I have been busy helping people with state government questions. In most cases, personally returned calls. While it was not possible to meet with you in person, I believe these windows we would have met with you now.

Hometown Heroes

Almost every morning during the COVID pandemic, my wife Brenna and I spent time giving a daily update about the pandemic on Facebook. It was a pleasure to share with our neighbors the good in our community.

Governor Went OnMontana Health Care Plan at Muhlenberg College

We thank our health care providers in Lebanon County and beyond to help others. Give me a call at 610-821-5577 or send me an email (RepSchlossberg@pahouse.net).

President

Throughout the pandemic, my staff and I have been busy helping people with state government questions. In most cases, personally returned calls. While it was not possible to meet with you in person, I believe these windows we would have met with you now.

Rep. Mike Schlossberg
P.O. Box 202132
Harrisburg, PA 17120-2132

VOTE 2020

Are you ready to vote in 2020?

Check your Voter Registration Status or Register Online

You can check your voter registration status or register to vote online at www.VotesPA.com. Pennsylvania law requires that your voter registration status or call my office at 610-821-5577. If you prefer to register using a paper application, my office can mail an application to you. Registrations or changes must be in the hands of the voter registration office by October 19. But don’t wait! Get it done early.

Has your Polling Place Moved?

The pandemic created a variety of challenges for voting in the 2020 primary and general election. Many of the people who poll the Polling Places that are working that day. Additionally, many of the polling locations are facilities with high risk populations. Lehigh County did a commendable job in securing polling locations to ensure people voting in person would cast their vote safely. It is possible the location where you voted last will not be a polling location in the 2020 election. If you are not sure where to vote, visit www.VotesPA.com or call my office (610-821-5577) so we can help you determine where you will vote.

Constituent Service Available By Appointment

Throughout the pandemic, my staff and I have been busy helping people with state government questions. In most cases, personally returned calls. While it was not possible to meet with you in person, I believe these windows we would have met with you now.

Hometown Heroes

Almost every morning during the COVID pandemic, my wife Brenna and I spent time giving a daily update about the pandemic on Facebook. It was a pleasure to share with our neighbors the good in our community.

Governor Went OnMontana Health Care Plan at Muhlenberg College

We thank our health care providers in Lebanon County and beyond to help others. Give me a call at 610-821-5577 or send me an email (RepSchlossberg@pahouse.net).